A Red Rose For Each Year—
7 Pupils From '03 Surprise Teacher

FORTY-SEVEN years ago—in 1903—third grade pupils at the old Sheridan Ave. School were sorry to “lose” one of their favorite teachers as she bid them goodbye when they moved ahead to the fourth year.

Tuesday night, at that teacher’s home, seven of these pupils assembled again in a surprise occasion for her. . . Miss Martha J. Coleman, 919 Fairview St.

With them they brought a huge bouquet of 47 red roses—one to mark each of the 47 flitting years since they passed from her classroom.

He was one of four of the men named unerringly by Miss Coleman from her vast storehouse of names and faces.

The veteran teacher, who retired in 1947 after 50 years, started her career in 1897 at the West End School. From there she went to the former Sheridan Ave. building on West Ninth St., then to Washington School and finally to Pleasant Heights.

‘Duke’ O’Hara Quits Chester Coaching Job

Hancock Board Gives $10 Month Boosts To Entire School Staff

The Hancock County School Board Tuesday night accepted the resignation of James “Duke” O’Hara, Chester High School football coach, after voting $10-a-month pay raises to all teachers and employees in the county school system.

Meeting at New Cumberland, the board also adopted the budget for the 1950-51 term and accepted the resignation of Miss Kathryn Flynn, a commercial teacher at Wells High School in Newell.

A. L. Rabenstein, superintendent, said the pay raise will apply to custodians, bus drivers and the system’s 230 teachers.

Mr. O’Hara, who has been Chester’s coach for three years, is now completing work on his Masters Degree at Marshall College. He will begin work on his doctorate this fall at Ohio State University.

Miss Flynn resigned to accept a position in Maryland. She has been at Wells High 13 years.

The budget for the coming year was set at $1,326,518, Mr. Rabenstein said, and no change was made in the tax levy rate.

Troubles Plague Plans For Hollow Rock Camp

Bad breaks today continued to dog officials of the Hollow Rock camp meeting, but it will open Thursday night on schedule.

The first blow occurred early Sunday morning when the Dennis Dormitory, housing the cafeteria, was destroyed by fire. Tuesday, a bulldozer clearing the site of the dormitory for tents was disabled. Then an electric refrigerator in which perishable food was to be stored “blew-up”, adding to the troubles.

Two large tents, one 40 x 60 feet and the other 35 x 50, were to arrive today to house the temporary cafeteria. A temporary kitchen also has been erected.

Truman’s Choice Lags In Missouri Primary Balloting

By The Associated Press

President Truman’s choice trailed by more than 11,000 votes today in the Democratic senatorial primary race in Missouri.

The man supported by Mr. Truman, State Senator Emory W. Allison of Rolla, had 159,396 votes to 171,002 for former U. S. Representative Thomas C. Hennings Jr. of St. Louis, in 4,199 out of 4,676 precincts.

This gave Mr. Hennings a lead of 11,606, with 477 precincts still to be counted, many of the missing ones in southeast Missouri where Mr. Truman always has polled a heavy vote. So the outcome appears still in doubt.

And in the neighboring state of Kansas, Alf M. Landon, Republican candidate for president in 1936 lost his campaign to regain control of the state party organization.

Nominated For Congress

Holt Wins As Republican In West Virginia Voting

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 2 (AP)—Former Democrat Rush D. Holt ran away with a Republican nomination to Congress today.

Mr. Holt, elected as a Democratic U.S. senator in 1934 when he was still too young to serve, switched parties this year and holds a 3-1 edge over his nearest rival in a four-way Third District race.

The unofficial count in 397 of the district’s 505 precincts gave Mr. Holt 12,318 votes to 4,145 for Rufus C. Hurt of Oak Hill, a bus line operator who had sought the same nomination unsuccessfully in 1946. Two other contenders were outdistanced.

Mr. Holt will oppose Representative Cleveland M. Bailey of Clarksburg in the November election. Mr. Bailey won renomination easily.

A ding-dong battle continued between Louis Reed of Elizabeth and Hal F. Morris of Charleston for the Republican nomination for state treasurer.

In 2,249 of the state’s 2,813 precincts, Reed had 42,025 votes to 41,258 for Mr. Morris.

The Democratic nomination for the same post is going to incumbent William H. Ansel Jr. of Springfield.

Nominated without opposition in other state-wide balloting are incumbent Leslie E. Given, Democrat, and Charles Ritchie, Repub-

Once-Beaten Malik To Try Again In U.N.

Russia Loses First Attempt To Kick Out Nationalist China

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 2—Beaten in his first attempt as Security Council president to oust Nationalist China, Soviet Delegate Jakob A. Malik will come back for another try today.

He was defeated decisively, 8 to 3, but he didn’t walk out yesterday.

Instead, he remained to trade bitter words with U. S. and Chinese delegates in a long, wrangling council session and to accuse the U. S. of leading “naked aggression” against Asian peoples in Korea, China, Indo-China and the Philippines.

Mr. Malik wound up yesterday’s three-hour council meeting, that marked the end of his seven-month boycott, by attacking the U. N. Korean action. He said peace in Korea must be considered along with the question of seating the representative of the Communist Chinese regime.

The Russian deputy foreign minister, somewhat pale and speaking in a husky voice, denounced the Korean action in answer to insistence of U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin that the agenda give priority to a U. S. resolution designed to keep the Korean conflict from spreading.

Mr. Malik tried to outmaneuver western powers on the council—first by flatly declaring that Chinese Nationalist Delegate T. F. Tsiang represented no nation and was illegally at the council table and second by trying to declare adopted his agenda which calls for seating the Communist Chinese representative and for a “peaceful settlement” in Korea.

Mr. Austin raised his voice in sharp, angry challenge each time.

This is the way they lined up in the vote—Russia, India, and Yugoslavia to oust the Nationalists; the U. S., Britain, France, Ecuador, Egypt, Norway, Cuba and the Chinese Nationalist delegate raising their hands against Mr. Malik’s ruling.

Mr. Malik announced first that the vote was seven votes “plus the vote of the Kuomintang group” against three. This drew another angry challenge from Mr. Austin, who demanded a “truthful” announcement of the vote.

Mr. Malik sparred with Mr. Austin briefly on a point of order and then said his announcement meant eight votes against the chair. Mr. Austin withdrew his challenge.

Church Plans New Addition

Nazarenes To Build Annex For $70,000

Work on a three-story “educational annex” to the new First Church of the Nazarene at St. Clair Ave. and Minerva St. probably will begin this fall, Rev. C. L. Rodda, pastor, announced today.

The annex, estimated to cost $70,000, will occupy a tract 74 x 49 feet on the north side of the new building. It will have an entrance from St. Clair Ave.

The annex will be erected without a contract and the work will proceed as funds are collected. It will provide accommodations for 1,100 persons in the Sunday School Department, Rev. Rodda said.

The Potters Lumber Co., general contractor on the new $225,000 church, is at work on the roof of the new building. The masonry work is nearing completion. The church will be ready for occupancy before Christmas.

Like World War II Days

First Draft Group Gets Physicals

THESE seven men from East Liverpool and Wellsville were in a group of 29 from Columbiana county who took pre-induction physical examinations Tuesday at the Canton Armory.

The photograph, reminiscent of World War II draft days, was taken on the Lisbon Square just before they boarded a bus.

Twenty-five went by bus, four arranged their own transportation and a fifth, who showed up with his leg in a cast, was deferred until the next trip.

That will be Aug. 16, when the remaining 48 of the first 78 called report for their physicals.

The pre-inductees will be notified of the results of yesterday’s exam by Columbiana County Draft Board 16.

Ohio To Draft 2,860 More In October Call

County Quotas Will Be Revealed Later, Director Reports

COLUMBUS, Aug. 2 (AP)—Selective service today asked Ohio to draft 2,860 men for the armed forces in October. The September call was for 2,850.

Colonel C. W. Goble, state selective service director, announced the October draft quota. He said county quotas will be made known later.

About 11,000 men were called for pre-induction physical examinations to meet the state’s September draft quota. Officials speculated that about the same number will be called to fill the October quota.

They didn’t say when examinations for the October call will begin. Physicals for the September call now are being held. Originally they were expected to be completed by Aug. 17. But the deadline was extended when Ohio’s September quota was boosted from an original 1,140 to 2,850.

Pre-induction examinations for the October quota won’t start until after those for the September quotas are finished, officials said.

Pennsylvania Guard Among Those Called

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Four National Guard divisions and two regimental combat teams called up for active duty were identified by the Army yesterday.

They are the 28th, 40th, 43rd and 45th infantry divisions and the 196th and 278 combat teams.

The 28th from Pennsylvania, will train at Camp Atterbury near Edinburg, Ind.; the 40th from California, at Camp Cook, Calif.; the 43rd, from Connecticut, Vermont and Rhode Island, at Camp Pickett, Va., and the 45th, from Oklahoma, at Camp Polk, La.

The 196th combat team, from South Dakota, goes to Camp Carson, near Colorado Springs, Colo.; the 278th, from Tennessee, to Fort Devens, near Ayer, Mass.

Those passing will be mailed a notice of acceptability and will have 21 days to get affairs in order.

Actual draft quotas are expected to be much lower than the number called for examination. J. Homer Browne, chairman of the board, said no word has been received on number of men the county will be ordered to supply.

‘Don’t Need Help,’ Korean Reds Tell China Communists

TOKYO, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Peiping radio said today that Communist China had offered military and naval help to the North Korean Reds, but was turned down. The broadcast was heard here.

The Korean Reds were quoted as saying help is not needed now.

Monitors in Tokyo quoted the broadcast over the official Chinese Communist radio as saying: “The Communist Republic of China has offered military and naval assistance to the People’s Republic of Korea. The people’s republic replied that assistance is unnecessary at this time.”

An American intelligence officer said the broadcast was made in the Tibetan language.

Succeeds Delbert Smoke

Aliquippa Man Appointed High School Band Director

The appointment of John E. Weitzel of Aliquippa as high school instrumental instructor was announced today by School Superintendent W. G. Fordyce.

Mr. Weitzel succeeds Delbert E. Smoke, who resigned recently to enter business in Alliance. He will take over his work here shortly, accompanying the band to Camp Chibiabos, near Akron, Aug. 12 for a week’s preparation for the opening of the football season Sept. 15.

As instrumental instructor, Mr. Weitzel will be in charge of the varsity concert band and orchestra, boys’ marching band and girls’ marching band. He also will assist in rehearsals for the junior band, “feeder” for the varsity bands.

Mr. Weitzel was graduated from Aliquippa High School. He served with the Army Air Forces from 1943 to 1946, gaining experience with military bands and assisting in precision drills for drum and bugle corps.

The Beaver county and his wife will move here as soon as housing can be found. His wife also is a musician.

Mr. Weitzel received his Bachelor of Music degree from the College of Wooster, where he was a member of the Kittie Band and Derby in Akron Aug. 13.

Actual draft quotas are expected to be much lower than the number called for examination. J. Homer Browne, chairman of the board, said no word has been received on number of men the county will be ordered to supply.

Duffy Seeks Ohio Probe Of Red Activities

Requests Authority For Grand Jury In Letter To Lausche

COLUMBUS, Aug. 2 (AP)—Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy yesterday asked Governor Frank J. Lausche for authority to make a “searching investigation” of Communist activities in Ohio.

Mr. Duffy also sought authority to summon a special grand jury if criminal acts are uncovered and to prosecute any persons indicted by the grand jury.

The attorney general, a Democrat, is a candidate for re-election in November.

Those indicted, Mr. Duffy pointed out, could be prosecuted under Ohio’s syndicalism law, which provides a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine. The law deals with advocacy of sabotage or violence as means of accomplishing industrial or political reform.

Tanks Help Win Heights Near Chinju

Kumchon Abandoned To Reds; Marines Arrive For Action

By The Associated Press

U. S. 24th Division troops and Sherman tanks recaptured heights east of Chinju today in a bloody counterblow at the North Korean spearhead thrusting dangerously close to the south coast base of Pusan.

But the U. S. First Cavalry gave up burning Kumchon at the northwest corner of a shrinking

‘Situation Improves,’ Washington Declares

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Defense Department spokesmen today described the overall Korean situation as “improving”.

But briefing officers said the situation is “still serious and anyone would be foolish to indicate anything else”.

Allied perimeter and other American and South Koreans abandoned four other anchor towns on the northern front.

General Douglas MacArthur reported that the enemy has launched his “last desperate all-out effort” to drive the Americans out of Korea as the U. S. First Marine Division began disembarking at a port a little over 40 miles from the Chinju battlefield.

Sherman tanks, dug in, met Soviet-made tanks in the battle northeast of Chinju. For a time the American counter-attackers were threatened with encirclement when the Reds surged around their flanks. There were many American casualties and some tank losses.

But the 24th Division troops, veterans of the first fighting in Korea, regained heights at Sangmun, 10 miles east of Chinju, and reached positions at Wonbun, five miles southwest of Chungam, a front-line dispatch reported.

This was ground lost Tuesday when the Communists thrust 15 miles east of Chinju toward Pusan.

The Marines, bringing flamethrowers, bigger tank-killing bazookas and M-26 tanks of 45 tons, heavier than any yet used in Korea, were met by a brass band, playing “From the halls of Montezuma”.

Teen-age newcomers and grizzled veterans of the outfit declared themselves “feeling fine and hot to go”.

The fall of Kumchon, about 90 miles to the northwest of the port of debarkation, had been forecast when dispatches reported the rail and highway town was under artillery fire and that First Cavalry troops were holding an arc-shaped front around it.

Twin enemy drives to the south through Kochang and Hyopchon toward Taegu on the railroad threatened to turn the First Cavalry’s left flank and cut the division off from its Pusan base.

Along the twisting northern front, 25th Division and South Korean troops gave up Hamchang, Sangju, Yecheon and Andong and withdrew behind the Nakdong River on part of the front. The North Koreans long had been stalemated on this front.

But on the east coast, South Koreans moved back into Yongdok, 25 miles north of Pohang.

The Air Force flew a record 500 day and night sorties in an effort to check the enemy’s most dangerous thrusts. Fighter planes left Chinju and near-by Sochan in flames. Pilots reported they destroyed seven North Korean tanks and 45 trucks with rocket and bombs.

Belgium Quiet As King Yields

'Complete Victory,' Socialist Spaak Says

BRUSSELS, Aug. 2 (AP) — Belgians went back to work today after a week of near-revolutionary strikes which started King Leopold III on a long road toward abdication.

The Liege area, however, still was partly crippled as workers shifted to a one-day mourning strike for three workers killed there by police fire during rioting Sunday.

King Leopold, meanwhile, still remains official king of the Belgians. His country had been perilously close to civil war early yesterday when he announced he would ask parliament to transfer his royal powers to his son, Crown Prince Baudouin. His statement implied that he would abdicate when Prince Baudouin turns 21 in September, 1951, if the country's three parties still are unified in their support of the young prince.

The king's announcement was hailed last night by the leader of the anti-Leopold forces, Socialist Paul-Henri Spaak, as a "complete victory".

He told a Socialist victory demonstration in a Brussels suburb:

"The king will cease to reign and will never reign again. This was our objective."

The first poet laureate of Britain who called himself by that title was Geoffrey Chaucer.

Key Role For Women Seen In Defense Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Representative Bolton (R) of Ohio said today "a very effective" civilian defense program is "nearly ready for announcement" by the National Security Resources Board.

Women will have an important role, she added.

Mrs. Bolton said the program will provide training for local citizens' groups in such things as what to do in event of atom bomb attacks. This work will be directed by experts who witnessed bombing raids in London during World War II and studied the results of atom bomb attacks on Japan.

She said local leaders will be wise to start at once listing both men and women available for civilian defense tasks.

Police Will Tighten Checks On Speeders

Economy Test Near In Senate

First Bid To Slash Home Spending Fails

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Senate headed today toward a decisive test on a strong bipartisan drive to cut home front spending.

The idea is to provide more money, men and materials to check Communist aggression in Korea and elsewhere.

The first attempt to make a major across-the-board slash in the non-defense expenditures contained in the $34,688,000,000 appropriations bill for fiscal 1951 failed yesterday.

The Senate shouted down an amendment offered by Senator Douglas (D) of Illinois which he estimated would slash $1,000,000,000 off federal construction projects, supplies, materials, pay rolls, travel and communications.

In contrast to the Douglas amendment, which found little advance support, the bipartisan cut proposed by Senators Bridges (R) of New Hampshire and Byrd (D) of Virginia already has pledges of support from more than 30 senators.

The amendment calls for a 10 per cent slash in almost all the non-defense items in the appropriations measure. Sponsors estimated it would save $800,000,000.

Paper Closes Plant

For Duration Of Strike

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—The struck World-Telegram and Sun closed its plant yesterday pending settlement of the C.I.O. New York Newspaper Guild strike now in its eighth week.

Lee B. Woods, executive editor of the paper, said the plant will not reopen until settlement.

"Those of the business and editorial staffs who have been reporting for work at the plant and are handling assignments elsewhere are being paid," Mr. Wood said.

"Those employees who have been reporting for work are for the most part supervisory employees and are not members of the guild."

The Land Of 'Face'

THE UNITED STATES has a big problem in Korea. Every American knows that by this time.

But there must be a small problem in the Kremlin, too. For instance, U.S. intelligence agents know there is a frantic mobilization of cannon fodder in North Korea. They surmise that the Kremlin made a real blunder; that it was caught off guard by the intervention of the United States.

The prize at stake in Korea is not territory. No one wants the land which belongs to the Koreans desperately enough to fight a major war over it, not even the Russians. They hoped to get it cheap.

U.S. intervention raised the price. More importantly, it jeopardized the real prize at stake in Korea—Asian prestige.

The Soviet Union is in real trouble in Korea. The trouble deepens with every addition to U.S. military power on the peninsula. The Asians, long accustomed to exploitation, are beginning to chuckle at the blunder of the Kremlin, which underestimated the opposition. The last time that happened, it was the Japanese who misjudged the odds.

While Soul-Searching

BERNARD M. BARUCH's two-fisted championship of all-out mobilization has hit Washington between the eyes. There is a great deal of soul-searching going on as congressmen and administrators weigh the obvious advantages of Mr. Baruch's proposals against the obvious disadvantages of piecemeal mobilization.

But something more than obstinacy and neglect are behind reluctance to go along with the Baruch thesis that halfway measures are worse than none at all. It is easy enough to concede that cutting off a pup's tail an inch at a time is harder on the pup than it would be to cut all of it off at once. But when the tail has been cut off, it won't grow back on.

So far as cutting off their prerogatives, their privileges and to some extent their cherished rights are concerned, Americans dread the thought of losing them to politicians. That is behind the reluctance to rush into the Baruch plan of all-out mobilization.

The American people, either consciously or instinctively, are reluctant to start the trip into all-out mobilization without a return ticket. They want to know how they will regain the authority which Mr. Baruch thinks they should turn over to government.

Have Mercy!

AN ANGRY BLOW at politicians who use out-of-date photographs of themselves to deceive the public in election contests has been struck by The Daily Oklahoman. "If these arthritic perennials will run for office," snorts The Oklahoman, "they ought to be required to use photographs of themselves that are not more than 38 years old."

It may be doubted that the editors who did all this snorting were aware of the implications. Politicians aren't the only citizens of this publicity-conscious republic who like to put a better face on reality than it actually bears. Even Hollywood, the capital of beauty, is well acquainted with the practice of improving on nature.

As for the rest of us, who never were tapped by a Hollywood scout, there seems to be nothing to do but stick with whatever likeness of our sub-standard features happens to be least like the real thing, yet close enough to be called a reasonable facsimile. It is questionable whether politicians are guiltier of this than others, they merely happen to be in an occupation which requires more frequent use of their facsimiles.

Has The Daily Oklahoman ever had occasion to compare the on-file photographs of its own staff members with the beaten-up and time-stained characters who show up day after day at the office? Even an honest newsman is not above practicing this minor form of self-deception.

Dropping State Barriers

THE COUNCIL OF STATE GOVERNMENTS has recommended that all of the 48 states adopt uniform highway regulations, including rules for the size and weight of trucks which will be general throughout the United States. Such action is badly needed and long overdue.

All of the 48 states are proud of the fact that they have no customs barriers. Diversity of highway laws provides barriers almost as real as border gates. A truck which is legal in Ohio may be illegal in Pennsylvania. And so it goes in many places as drivers reach the state line.

It seems logical that a truck which is lawful in Indiana also should be permitted to drive in Illinois. If one is a menace in West Virginia, it is just as bad in Kentucky. If the states can agree on one set of regulations applicable to all, it will end a big headache for truckers and bring order to a large and important business which is now slightly chaotic.

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

Stockholm Peace Pledge Is Everything But That

PRIOR to starting on the Korean adventure, Soviet Russia, through its international Communist parties, organized a worldwide peace offensive, designed to create a universal public opinion against the use of the atom bomb and to designate the United States as a warmonger.

This petition, addressed to no one in particular, is called the Stockholm pledge or the Stockholm petition and is widely circulated in the United States, where many have already signed it.

This is the text of the Stockholm pledge: "We demand the unconditional prohibition of the atomic weapon as an instrument of aggression and mass extermination of people and the establishment of strict international control over the fulfillment of this decision.

"We will regard as a war criminal that government which first uses the atomic weapon against any country.

"We call upon all people of good will all over the world to sign this call.

"We address ourselves to all social religious groups and workers in culture, all honest people who, irrespective of their views concerning the reasons for the strained international situation, are alarmed because of this and seriously desire to see peaceful relations restored between peoples.

"As a basis for agreement, we suggest the prohibition of the atomic weapon and the condemnation of the government which first uses the atomic weapon."

THIS CAMPAIGN is not for peace, but against the use of the atom bomb. It does not require peoples to enter into a comity of friendship. It only denies the United States its right to an advantage.

Obviously, this campaign was not suddenly entered upon universally for no reason whatsoever. It was advance notice that something very important was going to happen and that Soviet Russia was not ready to use the atom bomb. Therefore, nobody was to be permitted to use it.

If Russia were able to use the atom bomb, it would be used. No moral scruples enter into Marxian considerations. Only the law of necessity governs the Marxist—the law of survival and the determination of fitness only by survival. This attack on the use of the atom bomb, coming on the eve of the Korean war, would rather indicate that the Russians cannot place much faith in its efficacy so far as they are concerned.

As a matter of fact, if war is justified at all, the atom bomb is no more evil or immoral than the bazooka, the submarine or the bow and arrow.

On what basis can one decide that a weapon designed to kill is right or wrong. The only defense of war that is even thinkable is self-defense. And if one is driven to the extremity of having to defend himself by physical means, does it really matter what weapon is used—a block-buster or an atom bomb?

This petition simply discloses the fact that Soviet Russia, having decided to pursue a course of aggressive and destructive warfare against the United States, seeks to deprive this country of a weapon of defense.

And so-called Americans signed such a petition, some maliciously, some unwittingly, all to the harm of their country, for we must defend our dignity and honor as well as our land and civilization.

ONE OF the simple facts of life that our President, the secretary of state and the Central Intelligence Agency will have to learn is that every Russian war move is accompanied by a vast, highly-organized, universal propaganda campaign designed to destroy a potential defendant.

Thus, Franco was smeared so heavily that even today when the total wickedness of Stalin is exposed men fear to say what is true about Spain or to speak of Franco in terms fitting his position.

Thus, Chiang Kai-shek was smeared as corrupt and that was accepted without investigation and it has stuck to his personality. Thus, the Chinese Communists, organized in 1920 and active since then in the Third International, were painted as "agrarian reformers", and the term was used even by intelligent persons who should have known better.

Thus, Harry Truman is painted as a tool of Wall Street, although he has gone further to the left than any president we have ever had.

A Good Breakfast

By Truman Twill

SPENT several days recently in companionship with a citizen who believes in eating a hearty breakfast. Makes a fellow wonder whatever happened to breakfast.

Also what happens to the people who insist they feel ill at the thought and sight of food before they have been up and around a couple of hours. Not to mention what would happen if everybody made a special point of filling up before facing the world each day. Probably nothing. But it would be more fun.

This particular citizen, who shows no signs of over-eating by the way, claims it takes a half-dozen eggs and that many pieces of toast blended with strong coffee and fruit or vegetable juice to carry him through to lunch-time. Has been eating breakfasts of these proportions for years.

Never occurred to him there was anything unusual about the size. But in the company of persons who aren't accustomed to that sort of thing it makes him a gustatory freak. People who can squirm out of the sack in the morning and puff on a cigarette before brushing their teeth are likely to get squeamish at the sight of a platter of scrambled eggs and hot buttered toast.

Even after they have jolted themselves into wakefulness with several cups of coffee, the thought of food still makes them turn pale.

Or if they think of eating without cringing, they are likely to think about some kind of prepared cereal and a couple sips of citric acid. This is strange, because no one thinks of eating as a fashion. But the change in the space of a few years on breakfast can't be accounted for any other way. It has become stylish to be difficult about breakfast.

Ordinary eaters who never thought of themselves as possessors of freak appetites used to tie into small steaks, home fries, crullers, bowls of boiled eggs, stacks of wheat, rashers of bacon, slabs of liver, saucers of grits, scrapple, slabs of pie and loaves of bread in the process of getting ready to face another day. They used to smack their lips over the thought of oatmeal and get out of bed a quarter of an hour before the rising deadline to make the most of it.

No one is going to claim they were any healthier because they were full of food at the start of the day.

But it would be a tough assignment to prove it did them any harm. And day in and day out they had that peace of mind which passeth all understanding—the peace of mind that cometh from being a full man. Show us people who enjoy breakfast and we will show you people who are such good company they will be asked to stay for lunch.

It's only fashion that has caused breakfast to be shunned and abused. What fashion has changed for the worse can be changed for the better.

As far as this breakfaster is concerned, it henceforth will be fashionable to fill up in the morning. With a few years of hard practice, it may be possible to work up to six eggs—hummingbird size—and half a dozen slices of toast—Melba. One grape to warm up on, and a good cup of tea with lemon!

Moral Rearmament

By Dewitt Mackenzie

NEW YORK JAPAN, seeking ideological rehabilitation amidst the ruins of her defeated military oligarchy, is beginning to turn towards things spiritual.

This fact is emphasized by the current visit in America of some 60 Japanese leaders—political, business and labor—who are on their way home after attending a moral rearmament conference in Caix, Switzerland.

Vice-president Barkley made an address of welcome to them in Washington over the week-end and Chofiro Kuriyama, a member of the Japanese diet, addressed the Senate.

I had a chat with Mr. Kuriyama in New York and he confirmed that a spiritual movement is under way in this country. Nippon has been suffering from a low wave of morality. She lost her old ideology in military defeat and the postwar years found her with nothing to take its place.

The result of this ideological vacuum was that communism rushed in and took advantage of the situation. After all, communism did at least have a concrete ideology to offer and plenty of arguments to back it. The result was that many Japanese students turned to the Redism, lacking anything better.

This provided a potent challenge to Japanese leaders who had no use for communism and saw that they must arm themselves with new ideals if they were to compete with communism. That was the position when the ideology of moral rearmament began to register in Japan.

They Also Serve... Themselves!

We're Outnumbered This Time

By Walter Lippmann

BERNARD BARUCH has had the better of the argument with the administration. President Truman's advisers have been reading the statistics. But Mr. Baruch has been reading the public mind.

It is almost certainly true that the inflationary effect of the present military program could, as the Council of Economic Advisers says, be checked without general controls over prices and wages by "private restraint . . . much higher taxes, vigorous restraint upon credit, and a strong allocations program."

The present program sounds like a lot of money, but in relation to total productivity it is not a very big war effort. If, therefore, we were all statisticians and rational, we should all be exercising "private restraint."

But in fact Mr. Baruch has out-guessed the President's advisers both because he knows our unstinted and irrational but exceedingly human behavior in bull markets and bear markets.

The American people are not exercising that private restraint which the President's program calls for. They are speculating in the belief that the President has asked only for the first installment of a total war mobilization and that the time in which goods are not rationed and prices are not fixed will be short.

MR. BARUCH's knowledge of speculation has enabled him to keep up with and even ahead of what the people are doing. His argument, moreover, reinforces the popular speculation to anticipate the shortage of goods. For the people believe, and they have Mr. Baruch's word for it besides, that the general controls are not far off and that the free market will not last much longer.

So Mr. Truman will probably not be able to deal with that speculation fast enough by the slow devices of taxes that cannot be collected for some months and by the credit restrictions which take effect rather slowly.

Since it also will take time to set up the complicated machinery of rationing and of price and wages controls, Mr. Truman ought not to delay the enactment of the necessary laws.

Thus we are bound to act as if we are moving into a full war economy. Unlike 1940, we begin with something near full employment. There is little slack. The regimentation to convert industry and to redirect labor and to curtail consumption and to plan investment and to regulate exports and imports will have to be imposed more severely and at an earlier stage of the mobilization.

But having recognized that and accepted it, it is essential to realize that our military problem in 1950 is very different from what it was in 1941. On Pearl Harbor day we became members of a grand alliance which greatly outnumbered its enemies.

On Korea day we improvised an alliance which, in respect to military manpower able and willing to fight, is greatly inferior to its adversaries. In World War II there seemed to be no visible limit to the weapons which the alliance could use, provided we could build the ships to transport them.

BUT TODAY, though we and our allies are far from having the arms we need and could use, once the American economy begins to roll into mass production, we are almost certain to find that we have an over-production of weapons and an underproduction of combat troops.

It may seem a strange thing to be thinking of at a time when our troops in Korea are so tragically under-equipped. But it is the duty of civilians who are away behind the front to look ahead and to plan correctly the programs which will produce their results one, two and three years hence.

In this perspective it is, I believe, essential to the right use of our resources and the right formation of policy to remember the basic fact—that the American capacity to produce arms for land warfare is surely far greater than the capacity of our dependable allies to recruit men to carry the arms.

There are figures, which I believe are correct, showing that in the second world war we over-produced weapons for land warfare. We produced about 86,000 tanks, of which our Army may have used 20,000 and our Allies, through lend-lease, another 12,000.

Now the great masses of Russia and of China are not with us but against us. Though our friends, and the friends of what we stand for, are still a majority of mankind, our military alliance must draw its forces from North America and from the peninsula which is western Europe, and from some, not many, outlying countries which can be counted upon in a pinch.

WE CANNOT, therefore, prepare for the same kind of war as in 1941. Then we could win by achieving a crushing superiority in materials and in men over the numerically inferior and economically weaker Axis powers.

We crushed them by the overwhelming mass of Russian, British and American manpower and industrial power. But no mass superiority can be achieved against the Communist orbit today. In fact, in mass it is far superior and will retain that superiority until there is a schism within the orbit, unless in fact Communist China takes a separate and independent course from the Soviet Union.

For the time being the administration is compelled for the sake of national unity to take a line of policy which in practice unites the Chinese with the Russians and tends to separate the Indians from us.

Thus, denied the use of diplomacy to lighten our burden, the military burden which we must carry is at its maximum. We have to deter the Russians from going to war. This is in itself a military mission of supreme importance and of the utmost responsibility. But we are asked also to contain with our greatly inferior numbers the armed and armored hordes of the Communist revolution in Asia.

That could be the grand piano which broke the camel's back.

Tailor Made

THE AIR FORCE is going around measuring men these days. The idea is to build better-fitting clothing and equipment.

The aero-medical laboratory of the Air Material Command at Wright Field near Dayton is getting more than 660,000 individual measurements from 5,000 Air Force flying personnel.

These measurements will be used in deciding just what constitutes small, medium, large and very large men.

The measuring team is known as the anthropometric unit. During the summer, the team will visit 16 Air Force bases. From the statistics will come a new manual for the design of flight equipment and aircraft interiors, including special gear. Some 128 separate measurements are taken on each subject.

Complete analysis of the measurements will not be finished for about two years.

A new spectrometer speeds up the analysis of stainless steel samples to a total time of two or three minutes without sacrificing accuracy.

Once Over

Impression Of A Spy Hearing

COUNSEL: I demand a lower bail and a long postponement in this case.

Judge: Why?

Counsel: After all, it's only treason.

Prosecutor: Treason is a shooting offense.

Counsel: Come, come, that's only in the case of American boys in combat. It does not apply to those whose acts behind their backs lead them out to the enemy.

Judge: Would you mind going into that point further?

Counsel: No. I'd love to. But first I would have to take it up with my client, as it will cost him more money.

Prosecutor: I object to any lowering of bail for this man. The charge is not picking lice.

Prisoner (surprised): Why wasn't I told?

Counsel: Quiet! You might make a bad impression. Leave that to me!

JUDGE: I see no reason to admit the prisoner to low bond. He knew what he was doing, didn't he?

Counsel: Certainly not. He is only 35 years old.

Judge: But he was in the atomic bomb project and realized its importance to America.

Counsel: I will call a psychiatrist to prove that when he was an infant he was held upside down so often that he became unable to hold a secret.

Prosecutor: You mean to imply that although at Los Alamos he did not realize how important it was to his country that nothing leak out to the enemy?

Counsel: He tells me he thought Los Alamos was a race track, that Manhattan Project was an operation in connection with a new subway.

Judge: What did he think that Russian agents contacted by him were buying?

Counsel: Tips on a daily double. This is getting tiresome. I demand a postponement for about six months.

Judge: What for?

Counsel: My client is the type that doesn't like to be rushed.

Prosecutor: So are the kids who are dying in Korea, but they are rushed, nevertheless.

COUNSEL: I object to the introduction of Korea in this case.

Judge (to prosecutor): Do you think you can let Korea in with this whole matter of loyalty versus treason?

Prosecutor: I expect no difficulty, but you know how courts are.

Lawyer: That would be an infringement of my client's rights, a violation of the Constitution, a blow at free speech and a repudiation of democracy. I demand that Korea be struck out as inadmissible.

Judge: Are you aware that treason is a very serious matter and that the maximum penalty is death before a firing squad?

Counsel: You can't shoot my client. He is NOT at the front.

Judge (to prosecutor): Do you think he has a point there?

Prosecutor: I wouldn't be surprised. Dr. Fuchs got off with a few years and I just read where, in Canada, an atomic scientist convicted of selling atomic secrets to Russia has been released after two years.

Judge: On what grounds?

Prosecutor: GOOD BEHAVIOR!

Judge: How good can a man who sells out his country GET! ! !

Counsel: I object to a ruling on that question.

Judge: As well you might!

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

THE PLAN to distribute $2 radios in Russia may have to wait until we get a few more $2 guns into Korea.

I don't know how many more Russians would listen to our programs if we gave them the sets. We gave them ice-breakers a few years ago and all we got back was a deeper chill.

We gave them the ice-breakers so they could find new ports. The strategy was to give them so many new ports they wouldn't know which one to threaten us from.

But we must never forget that this and similar strategy made the Russians our ally against Japan. They came in two days after the second atom bomb and fought bravely for 10 days after the Japs quit.

Still if a $2 radio will convert Russia, I say put in another tube and solve the problems of the universe.

Three-Point Crisis Program

Taft Calls For Economy, New Taxes, Credit Curbs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (Special) — How much control and socialism does the Korean crisis justify?

U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio asked that question today—and answered it in a report to his constituents.

The only new powers needed by the federal government, he believes, are control of credit and "those direct powers necessary to obtain the manufacture of munitions and supplies for the armed forces."

He suggests this three-point program:

- Economize on all domestic expenditures
- Levy taxes to cover all contemplated expenditures and levy them at once, no matter how burdensome they appear
- Impose controls on the increase of private credit

"With such a program," Mr. Taft said "I believe it is unnecessary to grant any such arbitrary and dictatorial powers over industry as are proposed in the president's bill."

"While the bill omits those controls which might be considered unpopular in an election year—price and wage control and consumer rationing—in every other field it gives completely arbitrary power over the operation of industry, commerce and agriculture."

"It gives power to requisition any property in the United States, to loan money to any one to go into a business the government chooses to go into. The whole Brannan plan could be put into effect under this bill."

Arbitrary government control is not a cure for inflation, Mr. Taft declared.

"We fool ourselves," he explained, "if we think these controls prevent inflation. They at-

U.S. Weapons Go To Friends

200,000 Tons Sent
In Last Five Months

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Officials said today nearly 200,000 tons of American weapons and military supplies have been delivered to friendly foreign governments in the last five months. This total probably will be doubled or tripled within the next few months, they said, adding that $1,314,000,000 provided by Congress in 1949 already has been allocated and orders have been made against the $1,225,000,000 foreign arms program approved last week.

President Truman asked Congress yesterday for an additional $4,000,000,000 for arming non-Communist countries.

The bulk of deliveries thus far has gone to eight key North Atlantic pact countries—Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Italy, Denmark and Norway.

Officials declined to give a country-by-country breakdown on the grounds that such information is of value to a potential aggressor. But they said France has received the biggest share in line with western strategy to build up the French infantry forces.

Since the North Atlantic area is receiving top priority, comparatively little has gone to Iran, Greece and the Philippines, it was said.

About 300 warplanes, including B-29 super-fortresses, have been shipped abroad since last March.

Peace Economy Ends, Archbishop Declares

BOSTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Archbishop Richard J. Cushing told the Ancient Order of Hibernians yesterday:

"It is my candid opinion, for what it is worth, that you and I in this generation will never live again in a peacetime economy."

The archbishop spoke to 4,000 delegates who marched through a heavy rain into Holy Cross Cathedral for a Pontifical Mass opening their 65th biennial convention.

He told the delegates, "Only today I appealed to the priests in the archdiocese of Boston to volunteer as chaplains. From now on our priests will have less freedom and more work. No longer can we afford to be spiritual millionaires while our men are dying in Korea."

U.S. Cigarettes On Sale
PARIS, Aug. 2 — American cigarettes went on sale legally yesterday for the first time since the war. The price is 150 francs (42 cents) a package.

NEGRO TROOPS IN ACTION. Negro troops in action on the Korean war front fire a 105-millimeter howitzer. The areas these troops are in were not revealed for security reasons.

Escape From The Korean Reds

G.I. Wears White On Going-Away Trip

IN KOREA, Aug. 2 — An 18-year-old American soldier, wearing the white pants and white shirt of a Korean, stumbled tiredly into a command post.

A group of doughboys saw him and began to jeer at him good naturedly. "Where'd you get the look suit, kid?" one called. The young soldier — Private (1c) James Cannon of Medford, Mass., grinned shyly at them and then trudged wearily into headquarters. There he reported that he was the only survivor of a squad of eight men trapped in Kochang during a battle when the Reds seized control of that central bastion off the western front. He said his seven comrades were cut down by machine gun fire while trying to break through enemy lines and that he escaped across the mountains after trading clothing with a South Korean refugee.

"We were trapped behind a brick wall in the city," Private Cannon said. "We decided the only thing to do was to run for it rather than surrender. They had us surrounded. "FOUR OF the fellows were caught by machine gun fire before we reached a small stream at the base of a hill. Our corporal had been wounded. I tried to drag him behind a rock."

A North Korean came up on the American soldier behind. A South Korean soldier rushed the northerner and killed him by knifing him through the throat and chest.

"I don't know where that South Korean came from," Private Cannon said. "I just looked up and he was there."

The Yank and the South Korean soldier then took off up the hill separately.

"There was a lot of sniper fire and I was the only one of our squad to make it to the top," he said. "Once I looked back and saw another North Korean soldier come up and bayonet our corporal."

"On the other side of the hill I met a refugee and traded clothes with him.

"I DON'T think he was too happy about it—but I couldn't understand what he was saying."

Private Cannon said a South Korean villager hid him overnight under the porch of his home and brought him six raw eggs the next morning.

"I could only get three of them down," the private said. "That's all I had to eat, except a watermelon I borrowed."

Other friendly Koreans guided him back to a command post. The Yank seemed none the worse for his experience.

"All I brought out with me," he said, "was my dog tags, a packet of matches, a few cigarettes, and—this."

He reached in his shirt pocket and pulled out a medal of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

N.L.R.B. Settles Sidener Case

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP)—An N.L.R.B. hearing in the case of coal miner Lloyd H. Sidener's disagreement with the United Mine Workers Union was called off yesterday.

The hearing had been set for next Tuesday at Canton, Ill. Richard Swander, attorney for the labor board, said that the board has issued a final order settling the case and the only remaining matters are actual tendering of $2,500 back pay to Mr. Sidener and entering of the order as a consent decree by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Mr. Swander said that Mr. Sidener had refused to co-operate in settling the dispute. In the agreement, U.M.W. Local 7455 and the Buckheart mine management guaranteed the back pay and promised no threats or discrimination against him.

A union fine of $50,000 levied against Mr. Sidener after he was charged with "dual-unionism" has been rescinded. Mr. Sidener has been away from his job as shovel operator at the Canton mine since the coal strike last spring, except for two days he worked after the fine was rescinded.

LOUISIANA GIRL THINKS HADACOL IS WONDERFUL

Suffered deficiencies of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Niacin, and Iron

Pretty Betty Jo Prejean, 101 East Pine St., Ville Platte, La., says she wouldn't trade her bottle of HADACOL for all the tea in China. By giving her system the vitamins it lacked, B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin, HADACOL has given her that wonderful HADACOL feeling.

Here is Miss Prejean's own statement: "Before I started taking HADACOL I was troubled with colds all the time. My system was so run-down that I actually couldn't work—I had to quit my job. I was very nervous, too; in fact, everything seemed to go wrong. I started taking HADACOL over a year ago. What HADACOL has done for me is amazing—my nerves are just as steady as they can be and, best of all, I have gained weight. With the first two bottles of HADACOL I gained eight pounds, and that was in less than a month's time. I think HADACOL is wonderful."

"Amazing" Is The Word... for the way HADACOL has helped thousands and thousands of folks whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin. You, too, will be amazed at the wonderful results HADACOL can bring you, because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs, even to the eyes, hair and nails.

HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation—premiere blessed relief for your indigestion, stomach disturbances (gas, heartburn, sour "risings" after meals), for normal growth in children, as well as that general run-down condition, and aches and pains of neuritis. If your system lacks Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin.

HADACOL is being recommended by many doctors. HADACOL is so amazingly successful because if your system lacks Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin it acts directly to relieve this deficiency—the real cause of your trouble. That's the kind of product you want—the kind you should buy—the kind you should start taking immediately.

Only One Genuine HADACOL. Don't go through life suffering such fiendish torture from your stomach or aches and pains of neuritis when relief is as close at hand as the nearest drugstore for sufferers from these deficiencies. Buy HADACOL today. Trial, also, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There's only one true and genuine HADACOL.

3 Bound Over In Car Chase

Burglar Tools Found
In Malvern Case

CARROLLTON, O., Aug. 2 (Special)—Charged with possessing burglar tools, a trio arrested Sunday night after a wild chase through Malvern, was bound over to the grand jury under $5,000 bond each by Mayor Robert Frampton here Tuesday.

The men—George Floorish, 29, of Canton, Louis Herkovitz, 43, of Cleveland and Eddie Geister, 34, of Youngstown—were arrested by Police Chief Carl Hodge.

The trio had violated a traffic light in Malvern Sunday night. Chief Hodge gave chase to the car and captured the men at a dead end at the Robinson Clay Products Co.

After stopping, one of the trio jumped from the car, threw away a bag and began to flee. The bag contained burglar tools.

Two of the men were arrested at that time. Geister was arrested later while hiding behind a tree, Chief Hodge said. He is believed to be the third member of the gang.

Wayne Penick, who lived nearby, recovered the bag of burglar tools and turned them over to Chief Hodge. The bag also contained a .38-caliber revolver which was loaded.

Guard Major Compares U.S. And Russian Tanks

Major John Paul of East Liverpool compared performances of the Russian T-24 tank, being used by the Reds in Korea, with United States tanks in a talk before members of the Exchange Club Tuesday noon at the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Major Paul, operations and training officer of the 137th Heavy Tank Battalion, Ohio National Guard, commented on the T-24's sharply sloped armor, which deflects many artillery hits, and its low silhouette and maneuverability.

The National Guard officer spoke chiefly on the guard's role in national defense. He described training of the local company. Currently equipped with 35-ton Shermans mounting 76-millimeter guns, Major Paul said the battalion eventually will be furnished the new, heavier General Patton tanks with 90-millimeter, high-velocity guns.

"Some other time," we say, as somehow we hate to face one of life's most important decisions—the choice of a family cemetery lot and a monument of granite or marble that will mark it for eternity.

But how sensible to choose it now!

Then this family matter will be a family decision. Everyone concerned can have his say. A monument can be erected and the lot landscaped with unhurried care. And, by arranging payments in advance, financial burdens will never fall on survivors when they can least afford it. What a great relief for just a little forethought.

Exciting new TONI discovery improves home waves—5 ways!

With new wonder neutralizer—PERMAFIX—

Toni gives amazing results—finer results than scientists ever believed possible!

1 Gives The Most Natural-looking Wave science has ever achieved. The neutralizer, you know, makes the wave permanent. And Toni's amazing discovery, Permafix, created after two years of intensive research, neutralizes your permanent faster, more completely, more effectively. That means you get a longer-lasting wave that looks more natural, feels softer, behaves like naturally curly hair.

2 Conditions The Wave. Toni's revolutionary new neutralizer, Permafix, gives results like a glorious creme rinse. Permafix, in combination with Toni's exclusive Creme Waving Lotion, leaves your hair soft, smooth, easier to set—with the pliant "spring" that lasts month after month.

3 Leaves No Frizzy, Brittle Ends. You will see for yourself how hair waved with new Toni is in the same wonderful condition as natural, healthy hair. See those soft, silky-soft ends! Even children's fine hair, and bleached or tinted hair, is left softly lustrous. There is no frizz with a Toni. Your hair looks better—your wave is lovelier.

4 Permanent Takes Better, Lasts Longer. Women who have had ten Toni's and were happy with every one find the new improved Toni with Permafix is the best of all. They say their waves take better, last even longer than before. So take a tip from these enthusiastic Toni users. Make your next wave a Toni with Permafix. You'll agree it's the loveliest, longest-lasting wave you've ever had.

5 Leaves Hair For Easier To Manage. "New Toni with Permafix is wonderful!" says the Toni Twin. "Now my permanent takes no more care than naturally curly hair. It's easier to comb, easier to set and an 'angel' to manage." Barbara Stirling, the twin at the right (above), has the Toni. Remember, of all home permanents, Toni alone has Permafix.

Only TONI home permanent has PERMAFIX!

This Pie Is A Real Taste Treat

YOU'LL be talking about this dessert once you have tried it. Popular demand will bring it to your table often—especially while the luscious, giant blueberries are in season.

If you can resist eating the berries right after picking or purchasing them, try this coconut blueberry cream pie. The combination of creamy vanilla pudding and succulent blueberries is something in itself, but add to your pie a topping of whipped cream and delicately flavored, tender shredded coconut and you have a good looking pie as well as a flavorsome dessert.

COCONUT BLUEBERRY PIE

- 1 package vanilla pudding
- 2 cups milk
- 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
- 2 cups blueberries
- 1/4 cup water
- 1/4 cup sugar
- dash of cinnamon and salt
- 2 1/2 T cornstarch
- 1 T lemon juice
- 1/2 cup cream, whipped and sweetened
- 1/4 cup shredded coconut

Place pudding powder in saucepan. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened. Cool slightly, about 5 minutes, stirring once or twice. Pour into pie shell. Cool.

Meanwhile, combine blueberries and water in saucepan; bring to boil. Mix together sugar, cinnamon, salt and cornstarch. Add to berries and continue cooking until mixture is clear and thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add lemon juice. Spread at once over top of cooled pie. Chill.

Just before serving, spread with whipped cream and sprinkle with shredded coconut.

It's another in the series of weekly special events throughout the summer in the playgrounds.

Clinic At Wellsville Treats 75 Children

Approximately 75 pre-school children and babies were registered Tuesday morning for an immunization clinic at MacDonal School in Wellsville.

The youngsters were given vaccination against smallpox and the first of three injections against diphtheria.

Two other clinics are scheduled to complete the immunization—one Aug. 15 and the final on Aug. 29. Hours are from 9 to 11:30 a. m.

The clinic was arranged by the Wellsville Board of Education and Board of Health. Dr. William McGarvey and Dr. Gladys McGarvey gave the vaccinations and shots, assisted by Mrs. Jennie Calhoun, school nurse, Mrs. Rhea Nile and Mrs. Miriam Calhoun, all registered nurses.

Miss Mary Andrews, school secretary, handled the registration and records. Mrs. Calhoun said the clinic is primarily for pre-school children but that youngsters already in school will be accepted.

AMERICAN WOUNDED LOADED IN PLANE FOR JAPAN. Fighting a winning war is important, but so is prompt and efficient handling of those wounded in action. Americans wounded on Korean battlefields are receiving the fastest and best possible attention. Above, at an airfield somewhere in South Korea, ambulances laden with wounded G.I.s line up, waiting to discharge the injured to a C-54 hospital plane bound for Japan.

That Mysterious Political Letter

Did Woldman Hit Safely Or Strike Out?

COLUMBUS, Aug. 2 (AP)—That letter a state official wrote to irate labor leaders in defense of his boss this week—

Did the boss, Governor Frank J. Lausche, know about it in advance?

Or did Albert A. Woldman, state director of industrial relations, gum up the ball game by going to bat without his manager's consent?

If you've got the answer, you know more than the capital's political experts.

The letter, addressed to top brass in the American Federation of Labor and the C.I.O., said Mr. Woldman was "astounded to learn that you have publicly announced your actual or potential opposition to the candidacy" of Mr. Lausche for re-election.

The labor leaders had been put out because Mr. Lausche, titular leader of Ohio Democrats, said June 19 that he had not decided whether to vote for his party's candidate for U.S. Senator—Joseph T. Ferguson.

And a month and a half later, he hasn't yet announced publicly whether he'll cast his ballot for Mr. Ferguson or for the Republican candidate, U.S. Senator Robert A. Taft.

THE LETTER went to William

Green, president of the A.F.L.; Matthew Woll, A.F.L. vice-president; John Breidenbach, president of the Dayton Central Labor Union (A.F.L.), and Jack Kroil, national director of the C.I.O. Political Action Committee.

It was written by a man whose state duties involve safety in factories, minimum wages for women and minors and whether mattresses have the proper kind of stuffing.

Whether Mr. Woldman hit safely with his letter or struck out is yet to be seen. The box score won't be compiled until Nov. 7, Election Day. The point at the moment is:

Governor Lausche is understood to be "perturbed" by the foray of his industrial relations director into politics.

This would indicate Mr. Lausche didn't know Mr. Woldman intended to take pen in hand. His only comment for publication on the whole matter was: "No comment."

It appears incredible that Mr. Lausche, noted for his close check on public pronouncements of cabinet members, didn't know about the Woldman letter in advance.

MR. WOLDMAN gave the letter to newsmen Thursday, three days before it was released for publication Monday.

Mr. Woldman told newsmen he understood Mr. Lausche knew the letter was being written, but hadn't read its contents.

But yesterday, Mr. Woldman said the governor didn't know about the letter.

"I discussed things with the governor, but he didn't know about the letter," he told puzzled newsmen.

Mr. Woldman said he wrote it because he had a lot to do with drafting labor laws enacted by the last legislature.

"It's the finest pro-labor record in a third of a century," Mr. Woldman said. "I'm surprised that labor leaders have forgotten that so soon."

The "advances" cited by Mr. Woldman included bigger unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits, higher minimum wages for women and minors, greater mine safety and creation of a commission to study disability insurance.

To top off the week's political puzzle, Mr. Woldman insisted his letter was not intended as an antidote for Mr. Lausche's I-might-vote-for-Taft statement.

Yet the letter went to four labor leaders who registered possibly the strongest complaints about Mr. Lausche's statement.

Firm In Chester Plans River Dock For Barges

The T-K Roofing Manufacturing Co. of Chester has filed an application with the U. S. District Engineer's Office at Pittsburgh for permission to build a concrete foundation and framework to support an 8-inch pipeline for unloading barges in the Ohio River.

Officials explained the company plans to get asphalt shipments by barge instead of by railway tank car if the application is approved. Work on the pipeline from the river to the company's plant will be started as soon as permission is granted.

The T-K Co. celebrated its 10th anniversary Tuesday. The company had two on the payroll at the beginning of operations and at the present time 75 are employed.

Weirton Steel Kills Union As Court Ordered

Independent Group Will Retain Benefits Set Under Contract

By The Associated Press
The Weirton Steel Co. bowed yesterday to a court order and withdrew recognition of the big Weirton Independent Union.

Weirton Steel, one of the top independent steel companies of the country, was found guilty last week of contempt of court for failure to dissolve the company-sponsored Weirton Independent Union, Inc.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals also named Weirton's parent organization, the National Steel Corp., seven top company officials and five officers of the union.

The court stated the two corporations and 12 individuals had violated a Circuit Court decree in 1943 ordering them to dissolve the independent union and recognize the rights of the workers to join any union of their choice.

Said Weirton President T. E. Millsoop:

"Although we always have believed that our employees have wanted an independent union, we have been trying for more than 15 years to have a labor board election to settle the question once and for all.

"Under the court's order there will be no union recognized for three months unless the matter is settled by a labor board election within that time."

He said the company will maintain wage rates and all employee benefits now in force through a contract with the labor union.

About 10,000 employees at the firm's Weirton and Steubenville plants are affected.

Officials of the C.I.O. United Steelworkers previously had announced they had no plans for organizing the Weirton employees. Comment from the steelworkers was unavailable today.

'Still Criticize,' Hoover Cautions Republican Party

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 2 (AP)—Former president Herbert Hoover says the Republican party must keep alive its right of constructive criticism during the course of the Korean war.

He spoke yesterday at a regional conference of western Republicans.

"A strong Republican party is more needed now than ever as a check and a balance on the administration of this government," Mr. Hoover said.

"Today's America has drawn its sword against aggression and on behalf of the independence of nations. When America draws its sword, there is only one way out—and that is to win our purpose, which must be lasting peace.

"The Republican party is giving wholehearted support to the prosecution of this war. But this does not imply that the party surrenders its freedom of constructive criticism nor the vital benefit to the military and political conduct of the war through constructive debate. As a matter of fact, here lies the very preservation of freedom itself."

The conference ended last night with a closed session of the executive committee of the party's national committee and western states' members of the national committee.

Last Month Seen Coldest July In 58-Year Record

Last month was the coolest July on record and the first time in the 58 years of statistics kept by L. H. Copeland, Millport weather observer, that July temperatures fell below those for June, he reported today in his monthly weather roundup.

Rainy weather during much of the month held farmers back in their harvesting, but contributed considerably to what should be bumper crops of corn and potatoes, according to Mr. Copeland's predictions.

Wheat, oats and hay crops are below average. Particularly this is true of county wheat fields, which he estimated probably will yield no more than 20 bushels to the acre.

Temperatures for July averaged 65.4, or 5 degrees less than the 58-year normal of 70.5. A low of 44 was recorded on July 14 and the high for the month was the 89 reached on July 30 and 31. The warmest July on record was in 1901, when the temperature averaged 76.7 degrees.

Despite frequent showers during the period, average precipitation of 3.38 inches was only 0.92-inch ahead of the 58-year normal of 4.30 inches.

The wettest July was in 1941 with a fall of 10.15 inches. The driest was in 1930, when only 1.48 inches was recorded.

Navy's Constitutions Fly U.S.-Hawaiian Run

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Navy has put its two largest land planes—the 92-ton Constitutions—on the run between here and Hawaii.

One of the giant passenger-freight aircraft took off from Moffett Field yesterday.

The Navy said it will use the Constitutions—each capable of carrying 180 passengers and heavy cargo—for hauling high priority materials and personnel.

The huge four-engine planes are described as the largest commercial-type land planes in the United States. For the first time, the Navy is using them for extended overwater duty.

They had been mothballed recently because of high operating costs. But the Korean crisis brought them back into service.

The X-ray was so called because its inventor, Wilhelm Rontgen, could devise no better name for what was then considered an "unknown quantity."

U.S. May Rush Arms To China

MacArthur Report Waited On Switch

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Truman administration is considering reversing its policy of no arms aid to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa in order to strengthen the defenses of that anti-Communist stronghold.

A final decision by the state and defense departments and the White House is understood to await recommendations from General Douglas MacArthur, who conferred Monday with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

The government already has taken one step designed to ease the flow of American arms to the Chinese Nationalists. An order issued last week permits them to buy weapons through the Defense Department instead of having to go to the manufacturers directly, as they had done for many months.

Responsible officials said today that Chiang has an adequate basic supply of weapons for the defense of the island, but that he undoubtedly needs spare parts for repairs and also additional ammunition.

Fast O.K. Seen For Truman's Tax Boost Bill

Senate Finance Unit Takes Up War Action Behind Closed Doors

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The House ways and means committee today turned down an excess profits tax proposal as part of new legislation for renegotiation of defense contracts.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Senator George (D) of Georgia predicted today that President Truman's five billion dollar tax-boosting bill will be quickly passed, "substantially as submitted."

The bill, to buy more American fighting equipment, came up for closed-door consideration today by the Senate finance committee, which Mr. George heads.

He figures the increased rates on corporations and individuals may raise six to eight billion dollars in the next year, instead of five billion—because of the probable increase in national income.

The higher rate may be effective on incomes earned after Oct. 1. There is strong resistance in Congress to the President's proposal that the increase be effective on all corporation income in 1950.

There is increasing clamor, meanwhile, for broadening the bill to strike a withering blow at profiteering, for financing the current resistance to Communist aggression on a pay-as-you-go basis and for slashing non-defense government spending to the bone.

A big drive has developed for immediate action on an excess profits tax, to take the profits out of war.

Mr. George predicted an excess profits levy will be imposed on 1951 corporation income, but he said action on this can wait until January.

Notwithstanding, Chairman O'Mahoney (D) of Wyoming of the House-Senate economic committee and Representative Mills (D) of Arkansas led movements on both sides of the Capitol for immediate action on excess profits. Mr. O'Mahoney proposed that the tax be levied immediately. Mr. Mills said it should begin with 1951 income.

Senate Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois announced that as a member of the finance committee he will insist upon drastic tax action to curb profiteering.

'Loaded With Work,' Stalin Tells Magazine

MOSCOW, Aug. 2 (AP)—Premier Stalin says he is "overloaded with work."

He made this explanation in the magazine Bolshevik in apologizing for delay in answering a question about his view on languages. He predicted a general international language will develop gradually after socialism is victorious on a world scale.

Premier Stalin broadened this to discuss Marxism. He said Friedrich Engels, the German Socialist associated with Karl Marx, had concluded that after the victory of socialism the state must die—proceeding from the thesis that the victory of socialism would be world-wide. Premier Stalin said Russian Marxists had concluded Engels' formula was not applicable when socialism was victorious only in one country and not the majority of countries. They had concluded that in this circumstance the state (that is Russia) must be strengthened in every way—state organs, the intelligence and the army.

How American Leaders See It: West Can't Hold Now, But In 'X' Months

PARIS, Aug. 2 (UP)—America's leaders have no hope of defending western Europe from a Russian attack if it comes tomorrow.

But in "X" months—there's a top-secret label on the value of "X"—they believe Britain and France can be so strengthened morally and militarily that they could lead a successful stand.

Authoritative sources here who describe that situation say the number of months "X" represents can be shortened if many Europeans are won away from the currently popular attitude of "What's the use?"

That's the view being forcefully argued to the Europeans at North Atlantic pact meetings in London and in man-to-man conferences with officials throughout western Europe. The Americans make no effort to hide it, though they fight shy of putting their names to it publicly.

THE COMMUNIST attack in Korea and its success have put the razor edge on American awareness of how helpless Europe would be in the face of a full Russian assault. Before, this was understood in a dull and distant way, if at all.

This is the way they now paint the picture. The Russians, according to British Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell, could put 175 army divisions into the field tomorrow. Western Europe probably could not scrape together 15. While it might not necessarily take 175 divisions to stop 175, it would take a lot more than 15.

American rearmament of the Atlantic world is going ahead on the assumption that World War III can be avoided. Top American policymakers are said to believe there is less danger now of a major conflict than there was two months ago.

THEY REASON that two months ago the Russians might have thought they could edge ahead without resistance. The Korean war has showed they can expect opposition.

The fact that the Russians have not moved against western Europe seems to mean to observers here that the Soviets do not want a big war. If they did, they could hardly pick a better time than now.

The Americans are known to be telling the British and French—who must be the backbone of western Europe's defense—that there's no use brooding about the scarcity of available opposition to any Russian attack that comes soon.

What can be done, they are saying, is to get into shape in case the Russians decide to attack later.

Last Highway Bill Passed In Wellsville

Lump Sum Payment Of $11,158 Given Council's Approval

Wellsville City Council gave approval Tuesday night to final enabling legislation for the "super road" link with East Liverpool.

It sanctioned legislation fixing the city's share of the four-lane highway at $11,158, regardless of the final cost of the big project, estimated to run close to 3 million dollars.

The alternative was an initial payment of the same amount, with the understanding it would rise or fall according to the completed cost. East Liverpool and Columbiana county, also sharing the cost, have accepted the same proposition as Wellsville.

The action last night moved the project nearer to reality, as East Liverpool's enabling legislation was sanctioned July 24.

The three subdivisions will make the funds available through bond issues.

In other business, council enacted legislation limiting trucks to a six-ton load on five recently resurfaced streets. It included a compromise reached at the July 13 meeting covering trucks required to make deliveries on the streets as several potteries would be affected.

The ordinance was changed to allow travel by trucks engaged in business with concerns on the affected streets. The motion passed with Councilman J. Fred Russell dissenting. He said there is no need for the change because the trucks are not used heavily by trucks.

Covered by the ordinance are Fourth St. from Main St. to Broadway, Broadway from Fifth St. to Ninth St. 10th St. from Main St. to Commerce St., 15th St. from Commerce St. to Buckeye Ave. and Clark Ave. from 14th St. to 17th St.

On the recommendation of Mr. Russell, Clerk Elmer Evans was instructed to contact the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry the contracting firm which resurfaced the streets, and ask for a check of the job. Several councilmen reported they have received complaints the surface is not holding up.

Council also passed legislation authorizing Safety-Service Director Charles Lewis to ask bids for the purchase of a new police cruiser and the sale of the year-old car.

Council accepted $800 from the First National Bank for the care and upkeep of lots in the Springhill Cemetery, according to the will of the late Sarah Margaret Riddle.

On the recommendation of Robert Taggart, council ordered legislation banning parking on both sides of 18th St. near the Garfield School during school hours.

Mr. Lewis said he will have school zone signs placed near the McKinley School on Wells Ave. at the request of Councilman John McGarvey.

Mr. Taggart asked why no ordinance had been prepared asking for bids on a new dump site and Solicitor James McSweeney replied council did not furnish enough information as to how far past the city limits the dump would be located and the size of the site. Mr. Lewis said he will contact several property owners and make a report next week.

Mayor C. C. Leatherberry reported a total of $77.10 collected in fines and fees in July including $43 speeding, $33.70, reckless operation, $17 intoxication, $12 disorderly conduct, $2 traffic light violation, $708.70, gambling, $2 illegal parking, $83.70 drunken driving, $5, discharging fireworks, $2, stop sign violation and $10 for a license.
